

CETTINJE HAS BEEN CAPTURED
BY AUSTRIANS

Capital of Montenegro Is Now in the Hands of Austria and the Whole Nation Appears to Have Fallen a Victim to Teutonic Rush

VIENNA REPORTS
IMPORTANT CONQUEST

Austrian Fleet Said to Have Been Brought Before Cattaro and Complete Domination of Adriatic Sea Appears to Be the Purpose of Vienna Government

Vienna, via London, Jan. 14.—The capture of Cetinje, the capital of Montenegro, was announced to-day by the war office.

London, Jan. 14.—It was authoritatively announced to-day that the reported offensive of the Teutonic allies against Saloniki did not occur. The rumor that the attack had been begun against the allies forces apparently originated in the activity of the French in blowing up the bridges connecting Saloniki with the road over which the attackers would normally travel.

Speculation is rife as to the attitude Italy is adopting with regard to the invasion of Montenegro by Austria, which constitutes a grave menace to Italian interests.

News of the development of operations in Galicia and Bessarabia is awaited with much interest.

On the western front rain storms have interfered with the operations and only isolated artillery, hand grenade and mine engagements have taken place, according to Berlin.

London, Jan. 14.—A wireless from Rome reiterating the report of an armistice between Austria and Montenegro states that it was Austria which proposed the cessation of hostilities with the purpose of negotiating a separate peace.

Whether King Nicholas will continue the unequal struggle is considered doubtful here, but the accepted view among the best posted men in London is that Montenegro has virtually passed under Austrian control. The chief significance of this does not lie in the small territorial acquisition, which is less than Serbia, but in Montenegro's Adriatic front, lying alongside the Austrian main offensive naval station of Cattaro, where yesterday's dispatches announced the entire Austrian fleet, including three dreadnoughts, is assembled, and from which the recent naval raid was made against Italian transports going to the relief of Serbia.

This further extension of Austria's Adriatic front with the dominating naval center of Cattaro is viewed as further tending toward the realization of Austria's object of making the Adriatic an Austrian sea and thus checking Italy's ambition to make it an Italian sea.

Italy had so much at stake that officials and diplomats had been waiting anxiously for the steps Italy would take to relieve Montenegro and at the same time avert another Austrian extension on the Adriatic. They were aware that Italy had once before prevented Austria from gaining territorial concessions from Montenegro near Cattaro by emphatically objecting to the treaty made in 1912. As Italy was then a member of the triple alliance, Austria reluctantly yielded to the Italian objection.

It was believed that dynastic reasons would play a part in Italy's assistance of Montenegro, as King Nicholas' daughter is the wife of the king of Italy, but help from that quarter did not arrive, as the Italian expedition was landed further south, in Albania, and has not been heard from since.

The London Times asserts that Italy's interests in Montenegro are as important as England's in the opening of the Dardanelles and that the prospective annihilation of Montenegro will have far-reaching military consequences in the eastern Mediterranean.

FRENCH REPRISAL
AGAINST TURKEY

Consists of Arrest of Last Member of the Turkish Embassy in Paris—His Wife and Daughter to Be Interned.

Paris, Jan. 14.—As a reprisal of the internment of French subjects in Turkey, the French authorities yesterday arrested Sali Bey, architect of the Turkish embassy and the last functionary of the embassy on duty here. His wife and daughter also will be placed in confinement.

TO ANSWER IN MARCH.

New Hampshire to Make Reply to Vermont's Boundary Dispute.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 14.—The state of New Hampshire has accepted as proper legal notice the bill filed by Vermont to determine the boundary line between the two states.

New Hampshire will file an answer some time in March.

HUERTA, EX-DICTATOR
OF MEXICO, DEAD

He Died at El Paso, Texas, Last Night—He Was Surrounded by Members of His Family—Cause of Schlerosis of the Liver.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 14.—Victoriano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico, died here last night.

General Huerta, who succeeded General Francisco I. Madero in executive power in Mexico City and later left Mexico, died of schlerosis of the liver. He was surrounded by his family when the end came. His death was not unexpected.

General Victoriano Huerta was a professional soldier, and as such he had, up to the overthrow of President Francisco Madero, been known for his loyal support of the existing governments. He fought loyally for President Porfirio Diaz until his fall, and when Diaz was no longer chief executive, Huerta fought for Francisco de la Barra, the provisional president. After Francisco Madero was elected, Huerta found it not to be his duty to support one who had so long fought as a rebel. His loyalty was not challenged until the Felix Diaz revolution in Mexico City in February, 1913, when the Madero government was completely overthrown and Huerta himself elevated to the presidency.

Huerta devoted himself to the military career at a very early age. Born at Chihuahua in 1854, he entered the military academy of Chapultepec at the age of 17 and passed through the full course to graduation in 1875, when he was commissioned second lieutenant of engineers. During his academic term he was known for his predilection for scientific studies, particularly astronomy and mathematics.

When Porfirio Diaz began his reorganization of the Mexican army, Huerta was promoted captain of engineers and while holding this rank devised the plan for a Mexican general staff corps. He was an active member of the military map commission created to draft a staff map of Mexico on a large scale and he had charge of all the astronomical work of the commission, leading exploring parties over the wildest regions of the country.

During the ensuing years Huerta saw much active service. In 1901 he left the staff and took command of the infantry in the campaign against the Yaqui Indians. After this campaign he was again put in charge of the general staff's topographical work in Sonora. He participated in subsequent Yaqui campaigns and also in the campaign in Yucatan against the Maya Indians. As a reward for his Indian service Huerta was given the rank of brigadier-general and once more detailed to the general staff.

Huerta commanded all the detached government forces in the state of Guerrero at the beginning of the Madero revolution. When Madero acceded to the presidency, General Huerta was sent back into Mexico with a force to put down the Zapata rebellion. As a result of ill-feeling growing out of this campaign Huerta was recalled. Subsequently he led the army sent against Orozco and was in command at the battle of Bachimba. For this service he was promoted to major-general. He was then recalled to the capital and given leave of absence because of an affection of the eyes, and thus did not take part in the suppression of the first uprising led by General Felix Diaz in October, 1912.

In the second Felix Diaz revolution, which resulted in the overthrow of the Madero government, Huerta was immediately called to active command as the senior ranking general, then in the capital. He escorted Madero from Chapultepec castle to the palace on the first of the ten days' fighting and was placed in entire command of the forces of the government. He directed the government troops during all the subsequent fighting, and the conduct of these operations led to severe criticism on the part of Madero's friends. It was charged that he did not carry out the operations with any spirit, that he disobeyed the commands of President Madero, and that before General Blaguet entered the city it was this conference which sealed the fate of the Maderos.

Huerta was the moving spirit in the consumption of the plot that resulted in the seizure of the person of President Madero and his brother, Gustavo. The assassination of President Madero and his brother followed and in the meantime Huerta, with the military behind him, had been recognized as the provisional president.

EDITH CAVELL'S
BETRAYAL WAS ASSASSINATED

The Body of Belgian Spy, Cels, Was Found in Street with Two Bullet Wounds in It.

London, Jan. 14.—A dispatch to the Daily Express from Amsterdam says: "The Belgian spy, Cels, who denounced Edith Cavell, the English nurse who was executed at Brussels some time ago, to the Germans, was assassinated yesterday. His body was found in a street of Schuerbeek near Brussels with two bullet wounds in it."

GOVERNOR GATES TO ATTEND

Older Boys' Conference, Which Opens in Rutland To-night.

Rutland, Jan. 14.—Over 400 delegates already have arrived for the Older Boys' conference, which opens here to-night. Governor Gates will preside at the supper, which is the opening feature, to give an address. The attendance will exceed 500.

The ladies and pastor's union of the Heding Methodist church held their annual business meeting yesterday afternoon. The reports showed a very successful year's work. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. E. C. Glysson; first vice president, Mrs. D. H. Morse; second vice president, Mrs. Charles Kencerson; secretary, Mrs. C. L. Ruggles; treasurer, Mrs. T. H. Cave, Jr.; also the following chairmen of committees: executive, Mrs. B. W. Hooker; power, Mrs. Mardock; entertainment, Mrs. E. M. Lyon; refreshment, Mrs. M. E. Powers; membership, Mrs. H. W. Scott; sick and needy, Mrs. Walter Perkins, and assembly, Mrs. Walter Perkins.

STRUCK MINE,
SET ON FIRE

Dutch Steamer Maashaven Sank and Part of Crew Were Killed

BODIES OF EIGHT
MEMBERS ARRIVE

A Despatch to Lloyds Says That Others Were Saved

London, Jan. 14.—The Dutch steamship Princess Juliana arrived at Gravesend to-day, bringing the bodies of the captain and seven members of the crew of the Dutch steamer Maashaven which was abandoned on fire after striking a mine. A Lloyd's despatch from Rotterdam says the other members of the crew were saved.

The bows, that portion of the North Sea off the east coast of Kent between Ramsgate and South Foreland, is filled with ships bound for Rotterdam which have not been permitted to proceed on their voyages. British ships are forbidden to continue their voyage to Holland and neutral vessels are not being given the course by the admiralty.

In official circles it is said that the stoppage is due to the danger of German mines, which they allege have been sown along the Dutch coast, and that the vessels will not be allowed to proceed until the mines have been swept up.

Among the detained ships are several belonging to the commission for the relief of Belgium, and it is feared that if they are delayed much longer there will be a shortage of Belgian relief food.

CATHEDRAL BURNED
FROM FALLING CANDLE

Building in Sora, Italy, Was Occupied by People, Who Were Holding a Memorial Service—No One Was Injured.

Rome, Jan. 14.—The cathedral at Sora was destroyed by fire yesterday while services were in progress throughout Italy commemorating the earthquake at Avezzano Sora a year ago. The fire destroyed the statue of Saint Restitut, Sora's protecting saint, which was almost the only object in the church which had escaped uninjured in the earthquake last year.

During the service yesterday a candle fell and set fire to the altar and the whole building was consumed.

TO RE-OPEN QUARRIES.

New Capital is Going Into Marble Business on West Side.

Rutland, Jan. 14.—New capital, which will mean a great boom to the Green Mountain Marble company and the extension of this concern through the acquisition of marble quarries in this section, are in sight according to marble men who are now on the inside of the affairs of the company and although the officials refuse to discuss the situation it is known that negotiations are practically completed for the transfer of the old Boardman quarry on Boardman hill from the hands of Charles Boardman of California, Michael Odell and his son, George H. Odell, the present owners, to P. K. Eaton of Fitchburg, Mass., president of the marble company.

It was admitted by W. E. See, manager of the Green Mountain company, that several deals of considerable magnitude are pending but just what these are he refused to say. When asked whether or not the company was planning to buy the Boardman quarry he said the only way he could answer the question was by saying "yes or no."

The Boardman hill quarry is situated on Boardman hill, about a mile south of the village of West Rutland, and is located on the Sutherland Falls vein, the vein worked too successfully by the Vermont Marble company. The quarry was opened about 40 years ago, worked for a year or more and abandoned. A man by the name of Hyatt, who was also interested in the Manhattan works in West Rutland, was instrumental in opening the quarry. The marble from this hole is white with blue markings.

COASTED INTO POLE.

Young Man Got Broke Hip; Girl an Injury to Spine.

Rutland, Jan. 14.—Two Rutland young people, James Creed, Jr., and Miss Pauline Grace, whose parents live in Fowler, were taken to the Rutland hospital last night following a coasting accident on South Main street when a big traverse controlled by young Creed, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Creed of No. 35 East street, collided with a telephone pole. Creed was taken to the hospital in the Spencer & Cady ambulance, where he was attended by Dr. B. C. Powers, while Miss Grace was taken to the hospital in Dr. Ray E. Smith's automobile, she being attended by this physician.

The traverse contained eight or nine young people and it was being guided by Creed, Miss Grace sitting next to him on the boys. The hill was a sheet of ice and the sled had gone but a short distance when it gained great speed and started slewing from one side of the road to the other.

All members of the coasting party hung on, but the front sled headed for a telephone pole after it had reached a point opposite Clover street and Creed was not able to stop to one side or the other. The sleds crashed into the pole and the first two were most severely injured.

Creed had a broken right hip and he is severely bruised. Miss Grace has a possible injury to the spine and she was suffering severely last night from the shock. It could not be ascertained whether or not she was injured internally.

DAIRYMEN TO WATCH
VERMONT SOLONS

H. K. Brooks of St. Albans Was Elected President of Association at Final Session of Convention in Burlington.

Burlington, Jan. 14.—At the closing session of the 46th annual convention of the Vermont Dairymen's association late yesterday H. K. Brooks of St. Albans was elected president for the ensuing year. Other officers elected are as follows: First vice-president, O. L. Martin of Plainfield; second vice-president, H. B. Curtis of St. Albans; secretary, F. H. Bickford of Bradford; treasurer, M. A. Adams of Derby; auditor, F. L. Davis of Hartford.

Resolutions Adopted.

The resolutions as presented by the committee, Dean J. L. Hills, A. T. Curtis and Benjamin Tucker, were unanimously adopted. They referred to the deaths of James K. Curtis, late of Georgia, who was for several years during the '90s secretary of the association, and of Melvin H. Miller, late of Randolph, who was the oldest son of a pioneer in the work of the association, and himself an active member as long as his health permitted. Acknowledgment was made of the courtesies extended by the hotels, railroads, press and citizens of the city of Burlington.

Note was made of the working of the federal enactments in regard to oleomargarine, which seems to be progressing well from the point of view of the dairymen.

Pleasure was expressed at the news of the coming of the national dairy show to the East, bringing to Springfield, Mass., the exhibition of the best in dairying, and moral support to the show, as well as to the national dairy council in its advancement of the cause of dairying in America, was pledged and the proposition that the state dairy association affiliate with it in its endeavors was committed to the executive committee, with power to act.

The committee on agriculture of the Boston Chamber of Commerce was congratulated on its presentation of the New England milk shipping situation.

The officers of the association were empowered to appoint a committee to cooperate with a like committee from the state grade, looking towards unified action in connection with legislative matters, instead of separate effort.

Belief was expressed that a more permanent committee in regard to unified action in connection with legislative matters affecting dairymen should be constituted with the special duty of watching legislation in the three southern New England states and that the expenditure of the association funds, within reasonable limits, in the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to such a conference; that the same committee seek the co-operation of the agricultural committee of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to bring about such a conference, especially with a view to bringing consumers of milk products to the question of the interests of such a movement would be advisable. It was resolved that, "whereas, diversity of enactment tends to distract and unity to foster dairy interests," a delegate conference representative of the dairymen's associations of the several states should be held at an early date, that the incoming executive committee appoint the legislative committee and report the names at the evening banquet, this committee to act as delegates to the proposed conference of the several states, and that the executive committee correspond with the other New England associations, asking them to appoint delegates to